

ACRA 2016

26th Annual Scientific Meeting

SAVE THE DATE

Hotel Grand Chancellor Adelaide on Hindley 1-3 August 2016

The Australian Cardiovascular Health and Rehabilitation Association (ACRA) will host the 26th Annual Scientific Meeting in vibrant Adelaide, from Monday 1st to Wednesday 3rd August 2016.

As in previous years, participants can expect an exciting and interactive program centred around clinical and research issues including the latest developments in prevention and management of cardiovascular disease.

The emphasis of the 2016 meeting is on "transforming into the future". This theme will be echoed throughout the conference as we look at what is challenging, new and different in cardiovascular disease.

ACRA 2016 ASM will truly have something for everyone with concurrent and plenary sessions hosted by a superb line up of international and local faculty, along with a number of networking opportunities tailored at doctors, nurses, allied health professionals and anyone working within cardiovascular health and rehabilitation.

Mark your diary now!

Australian Cardiovascular Health and Rehabilitation Association

www.acra.net.au